Implementing RDA
What Catalogers Are Saying
Learn to Let Go (of rules)
Rules vs. Guidelines
Why do we catalog?
Why do we classify?
What aspects are important?
What aspects can we let go of?
FAQs

- Is my system RDA compliant?
- Will my system take RDA records?
- Do I have to use RDA?

User tasks
  - Incorporate them into policy statements
Appendices I-L for Relationship terms
RDA and FRBR terminology (Binders of them!)
AACR2 to RDA vocabulary

- heading → authorized access point
- author, composer, etc. → creator

- main entry → preferred title + authorized access point for creator if appropriate

- uniform title → 1) preferred title (+ other information to differentiate); 2) conventional collective title

- see reference → Variant access point
Group 1 entities:
  - Work, expression, manifestation, item

Group 2 entities:
  - Person, family, corporate body

Group 3 entities:
  - Groups 1 and 2
  - Concept, object, event, place [not yet in RDA]
ICP “representation” principle

• “Take what you see”
• “Accept what you get”
  – Example: Do not abbreviate words in transcribed fields

MARC 250:  Third revised edition
  – do not change to “3rd rev. ed.”

MARC 260:  ABC Publishing Company
  – do not change to “ABC Pub. Co.”

Plan

 créer un calendrier
 créer un plan d'implémentation
   - Qui apprendra?
   - Qui enseignera?
   - Quand commencerez-vous à suivre l’RDA?
   - Revue de votre indexation
   - Examen des éléments CORE

 Look to the future
   - Enregistrements hybrides en OCLC
   - Notification des enregistrements bibliographiques OCLC (partie de la subscription)
   - Chargement en lots bibliographiques OCLC (coût de mise en place)
Scenario: You have a small technical services staff. PCC and LC begin using RDA March 31, 2013.

Draft an implementation plan for implementing RDA at your library.

Communication

- Present RDA and FRBR vocabulary to your staff, in pieces, say 2-3 terms each meeting. Talk about them, what they mean and how they relate to your work
- Look at your mission and goals; think about how your practices relate to them and make use of that in your communications
